QUARTER IN REVIEW

MOTHER COURAGE AND HER CHILDREN

A BEAUTIFUL DAY IN NOVEMBER ON THE BANKS OF THE GREATEST OF THE GREAT LAKES
MFA Playwriting alumnus Guillermo Reyes has recently published a new play, "Day in Tucson" with Dramatic Publishing.

A shooting rampage in Tucson, Ariz., creates international headlines as Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords becomes one of the victims. A young intern from Tucson, Daniel Hernandez Jr., rushes to Giffords’ rescue, and he’s credited with helping save her life. The media creates a circus around him, transforms him into a reluctant hero and private life to public scrutiny, especially when he wasn’t ready to discuss his involvement in the LGBTQ community. This is the real story of an unexpected hero who is unintentionally thrust into the limelight, and, in flashbacks, the play depicts what led to that crucial day in Tucson.

Every New Year’s Eve a family gathers in their Florida backyard to ring in the coming year. In between dips in the pool, politically incorrect banter and a highly-anticipated onion dip, their relationships grow and fracture in moments that become family legend. Unfolding backwards in time, The Year to Come is a funny, touching and relatable world premiere that shows how the promise of our future is shaped by the lens of our past. The production features scenic design by MFA Scenic Design alumnus Christopher Acebo, projection design by MFA Scenic Design alumna Anna Robinson, MFA Stage Management alumna Mandisa Reed is the ASM and MFA Acting student Hannah Finn in an understudy role for her LJP residency!

Ray believes in the power of food. As a gourmet chef, he’s seen a bowl of berries help a woman to fall in love. He’s heard stories of a meal prepared by a mother to keep a son from leaving home and moving to the other side of the world. Now with the help of his uncle unexpectedly from Korea, Ray is tasked with preparing a family soup recipe to keep his father alive. When words fail, a home-cooked meal transcends differences in this touching story of intergenerational connectedness, forgiveness and the sweetest spice of life: love. A Korean family struggles to relate across emotional and cultural divides, it's the ingredients they share in common that lead to understanding. Aubergine is a mouthwatering meditation on the beauty of life where hope is no mere ingredient, it's the main course. Performances begin January 24th.
