Opening this Week

This week third year director Michael Socrates Moran’s thesis production of HAMLET opens.

Charged toward vengeance by the ghost of his murdered father and King, Hamlet seeks to cleanse Elsinore of its immoral madness by re-aligning the Shakespearean cosmos and spiritually purifying a hyper-secularized, narcissistic and politically corrupt world without killing himself or being killed.

In this exploration of the play director Michael Socrates Moran casts Hamlet as an artist and pursues the artistic power to render the metaphysical and mythical realms manifest in such a manner for Elsinore to reckon with. This production seeks to reflect a contemporary, competitive culture where we give high value to achievement, status and comfort and are perhaps in need of Hamlet to reconnect us with our unpleasant depths, denied darknesses and reveal the destructive madness of which we remain unaware. In the terrifying face of death, Hamlet's legendary delay and self-wrestling may also be the self-reflection necessary to transform his princely 'perturbed spirit' into the paradoxical serenity of valor and surrender characteristic of an archetypal king-a kingliness we may all need in today's world.

Directed in New York by Giovanna Sardelli, the play was originally developed at UCSD as part of the Wagner New Play Festival. The New York Times called the production a "warm and fanciful drama with an excellent cast." Read the full review here.

Acting alum Donald Sage Mackay (MFA '90) filmed a guest star on BLUE BLOODS in New York. The series follows the Irish-American Reagan family of police officers with the New York City Police Department.

The Light Princess follows the journey of a young princess cursed to live without gravity in a new musical. After two full runs at the A.R.T. in Cambridge, The Light Princess is moving Off-Broadway!
