Explore with us the many variations and values of hypocrisy with the great French master of satire as our guide in this thinking person's comedy of social behavior. The Misanthrope, directed by James Winker, a professor in the Department of Theatre and Dance, is set in the fashionable social milieu of seventeenth-century Paris. Alceste, the misanthrope of the title, is disgusted by the hypocrisy, injustice, and overall corruption in human society. Alceste's concern with the issue of justice has to do with the fact that he is embroiled in several lawsuits, the outcomes of which are determined not by which party is in the right but by who has the most influence in court. Nonetheless, Alceste is in love with Celimene, a young widow with a reputation for flirtation and for surrounding herself with suitors and who is a prime example of the insincerity that Alceste despises in others. The Misanthrope is concerned with themes of honesty and hypocrisy, justice and injustice; the manipulative social games people play; and, the conflict between the individual and society.
