

WEEK EIGHT – Spring Quarter 2013

Monday, May 20th

MEETINGS OF THE WEEK

There are no meetings announced at this time.

DEPARTMENT NEWS

Incoming Students – Twenty new freshmen will be joining the Department in the Fall Quarter, having declared one of our majors (up from twelve last year). Additionally, fifty-one transfer students have been accepted to UC San Diego with a declared major in the Department. While we won't know for a while how many of the transfers will actually register, it looks like a good-sized group for the upcoming year. There will be twenty-four new graduate students starting in the fall as well. Four of these are international students.

CAMPUS NEWS

Joining the 21st Century – “University of California undergraduates would have dozens of rigorous new online courses to choose from over the next few years, under an initiative proposed by UC leaders that would give students greater flexibility in progressing through their studies. Gov. Jerry Brown has earmarked $10 million of his proposed UC budget to use technology to increase access to high-demand courses for UC students. Under a plan developed by UC faculty and administrators, the University would use those funds to develop a robust inventory of courses that could be offered across the system.” More.

1920s Era Cinema - “San Diego, with its spectacular coastal vistas, wide sandy beaches, and perpetually balmy weather, has long been a draw as a filming location for Hollywood motion picture studios. Not nearly as well known, however, is the fact that in the 1920s, La Jolla once boasted its own thriving community of filmmakers, the La Jolla Cinema League, which flourished in the waning days of silent cinema.” Screenings on Saturday, May 25th. State of the University - President Yudof recently presented to the UC Board of Regents on a report on his views of the current status of the University of California and some of the significant trends and policy choices to be faced in the coming year. Read the report here.
