Training

As mentioned in my credits, I had the recent honor to work with Patricia McGregor, a prominent theatre director who was profiled twice by the New York Times. In June 2020, I received my Associates Degree in Drama from Los Angeles Pierce Community College and I am slated to receive my Bachelor's in Theatre from University of California San Diego in Fall 2022. I have taken acting courses from acclaimed professors such as Eva Barnes and Jennifer Chang, who is the head of the theatre department.

Special skills

- Some conversational Spanish
- Tenor vocal range (F2-E5) with Falsetto capability
- Can read music
- Can play multiple instruments (Alto Sax, Trombone, Baritone, Clarinet)
- Can speak in a posh British accent
