Summary

Neha fears she has failed to pass her language and culture down to her seventeen-year-old son, Neel. A summer trip to visit colleges could be Neha’s last chance, if only she can get Neel to visit the historic Hope Diamond and witness a piece of Indian history for himself. This play asks what we lose with every generation in America, and if it’s ever too late to connect with your roots.

Dedication

This production is dedicated to Ankita’s Nani, Kusum Joshi. And to every grandmother who works hard to stay close from a distance.

The Director

Rosie Glen-Lambert (she/her) is a second-year MFA Directing student. She is the Artistic Director and Founder of The Attic Collective, an award-winning Los Angeles based theatre company. Before beginning graduate school, Rosie served as the Literary Manager of Inkwell Theater from 2018-2022. Rosie received her BA from UC Santa Cruz.
